

Bibliography

- “Autobiography of a Country Schoolteacher,” The World’s Work, July, 1910, pp. 13158-13164.
- Bonn, Myrtle. “Teachers Then and Now,” American Education, 3 (October, 1967), 13-19.
- Burton, Warren. The District School As It Was. Boston: Lee & Shepard, MCDCCXVII.
- Dale, Edward Everett. “Teaching on the Prairie Plains,” Mississippi Valley Historical Review, 37 (Summer, 1946), 293-307.
- Eggleston, Edward. The Hoosier Schoolboy. New York: Charles Scribner’s Sons, 1905.
- Fawcett, Lois M. “Frontier Education,” Minnesota History, 14 (June, 1933), 142-149.
- Fender, Joe. Greenwood School. Charleston, Illinois: Prairie Press Books, 1970.
- Herr, Pamela. “School Days on the Frontier,” The American West, XV (September-October, 1978), 12-27.
- Hill, William James, Jr. "A Concise History of Education in Illinois with Special Reference to Coles County and Charleston Community Unit School District Number One." Unpublished Specialist in Education Degree thesis, Eastern Illinois University.
- Kennedy, Millard Fillmore. Schoolmaster of Yesterday: A Three Generation Story. York, Pennsylvania: Whittlesey House, 1940.
- Meredith, E. E., ed. “School Days of Yesteryear,” Hobbies, May, 1954, pp. 128-130.
- Nowlin, Clifford Hiram. “Tide of Memory,” National Education Association Journal, 46 (March, 1957), 187-188.
- Poor, Gerald L. “Those Good Old Days,” Michigan History, 31 (June, 1947), 207-212.
- Rudy, Willis. “The Good Old Days,” National Education Association Journal, 44 (December, 1955), 538-540.
- Sherwood, Ada Simpson. “An Old-Time Pedagog,” Educational Review, 43 (January, 1912), 41-48.